Archbishop Smith recently travelled to Nigaragua to visit Father Denis Hebert, a priest of the Archdiocese of Edmonton who has served in missionary ministry among the needy in the barrios of Managua for the last 25 years. Father Denis is now 84 and his health is frail (He is pictured above during a home visit with a nurse.)

“He is known as Padre Denis to the local people, who look upon him with great affection,” Archbishop Smith wrote in a blog post on the visit. “And no wonder. He has dedicated his life to their service. For years he has been making himself present among the people, and has given concrete expression to God’s concern and love for them. His presence and ministry led to the establishment of Fundación Acción Comunitaria (FUNDACCO). This not-for-profit foundation, managed and directed by the local people, aims to help the poor help themselves. Canadians can support this mission through the registered charity Roots of Change.”

Catechesis: Weekly Discipleship Reflection

Sunday, March 29 – Palm Sunday of the Passion of the Lord The Road to Discipleship: The Son of Man

In Mark's Gospel, Jesus calls himself "the Son of Man" 14 times—four times in today's Passion narrative. Jesus uses a term familiar to the Jews of Israel. The term is used 93 times in Ezekiel and once in Daniel. It emphasizes one's humanity in contrast to God or angels, and identifies a prophet's role as a special representative of the people. Jesus freely called himself the Son of Man, because it was a title that cloaked his full identity until his hour came. The Son of Man is a brother, fellow-sufferer, representative, and champion for all humanity. The Roman centurion, a Gentile, saw clearly who he was. Do we? Can we follow him to the Cross?
